

NAKASENDO SELF-GUIDED WALKING

Introduction

Weaving through the mountains of central Japan, the historic Nakasendo Trail connected Kyoto and Edo-period Tokyo. This trail stretches 534 km and the villages along the way, known as juku, provided accommodation for weary travellers walking along this route dating back to the seventh century. Some of the best-preserved post towns offer a real glimpse into the past, with wooden buildings lining stoned paths and the sound of watermills evoking a connection to those who have walked there centuries ago.

Amongst the 69 post towns along this ancient trail, Magome, Tsumago, and Narai stand out thanks to the conservation efforts made by the local government and people who have lived here for generations. With modern power lines and advertising boards being outlawed, the locals here have preserved the traditional townscape and unique history of this region.

We offer 3-day, 4-day, and 5-day versions of this historic walk.

On the trail from Magome to Tsumago

Details: 5-day hike

 Tour length
5 days

 Type and trip level
Featuring paved village paths and unpaved forest trails, this is easy to moderate walk is our flagship Nakasendo hike. The longest days have 6 hours of walking with other days featuring 1 to 3 hours of walking, giving time for sightseeing in the lovely old Nakasendo post towns en route. The first parts of the route follow the Kiso Valley, and have some gentle climbs over low passes.

Itinerary

Day 1: Hike from Magome to Tsumago

- 8.3 km / 5.2 mi
- About 3 hours
- 326 m / 1,069 ft
- 430 m / 1,410 ft
- Minshuku (family-run guesthouse)
- Dinner

We supply train tickets for your journey starting from Kyoto or Tokyo to Nakatsugawa, including a ride on the world-famous bullet train to Nagoya. At Nakatsugawa, you board a local bus for the short journey to Magome. Walk over Magome Pass to Tsumago, one of the best-preserved and most evocative of the Nakasendo post towns. Spend the night at a family-run minshuku in Tsumago or the nearby hamlet of O-Tsumago. Enjoy a delicious home-cooked Japanese dinner and breakfast included in your stay. After dinner, enjoy a stroll through the village streets in the magical quiet of the evening, wearing the yukata gown supplied by your inn.

Day 2: Hike from Tsumago to Nojiri

- 18.4 km / 11.5 mi
- About 6 hours
- 723 m / 2,275 ft
- 644 m / 2,112 ft
- Onsen ryokan (hot spring inn) or onsen hotel (hot spring hotel)
- Breakfast, dinner

The longest day on the trail is a beautiful and varied hike from Tsumago to Nojiri. You may also choose the shorter alternative to Nagiso instead. The trail travels through small valleys and past forests of bamboo and Japanese cedar, through some of the most unspoilt scenery on the tour. Continue by train to Kiso-Fukushima, a historic post town that once flourished as a political and economic centre in the Kiso Valley. Tonight, enjoy kaiseki-style cuisine and hot spring baths.

We offer a shorter alternative of 1 hour (3.7 km / 2.3 mi). You can choose which option you prefer on the day – no need to decide in advance!

Day 3: Hike from Yabuhara to Narai and on to Kiso-Hirasawa

- 8.7 km / 5.5 mi
- About 4 hours
- 344 m / 1,128 ft
- 270 m / 885 ft
- Minshuku (family-run guesthouse) or ryokan (traditional Japanese inn)
- Breakfast, dinner

We supply train tickets for the short journey from Kiso-Fukushima to Yabuhara, the starting point for the hike over the Torii Pass to Narai. Explore this atmospheric village before you continue on today's journey to the small town of Kiso-Hirasawa, famous for its lacquerware. There are many small shops selling beautifully crafted tableware and furniture. From Kiso-Hirasawa, transfer by train to the castle town of Matsumoto for your overnight stay. Your hosts will serve a home-cooked Japanese dinner and breakfast.

Day 4: Sightseeing in Matsumoto and transfer to Karuizawa

- Ryokan (traditional Japanese inn)
- Breakfast, dinner

After breakfast, you will have time dedicated to sightseeing around Matsumoto. Highly recommended is a visit to Matsumoto Castle, one of only 12 castles in Japan that has retained its original interior and exterior structures. When you are finished in Matsumoto, you will travel by train to your final stop for your onward journey to Karuizawa or Komoro for your final overnight stay. Both locations have lovely inns with a real sense of history and fine Japanese baths. Arrive at your accommodation in time for a wonderful dinner featuring local produce.

Matsumoto Castle

Day 5: Hike from Karuizawa to Yokokawa and transfer to Tokyo

- 16.7 km / 10 mi
- About 5-6 hours
- 372 m / 1,220 ft
- 862 m / 2,828 ft
- Breakfast

After breakfast, your final walk on the Nakasendo Trail is from Karuizawa to Yokokawa. Leaving Karuizawa, the trail takes you over the Usui-toge Pass and down a gentle descent along one of the most beautiful sections of the Nakasendo. From Yokokawa, board the local train to Takasaki and change there for your ride on the bullet train to Tokyo. The train journey takes around two hours and you will arrive in Tokyo in the late afternoon or early evening.

The walk can be shortened by 5.9 km / 3.7 mi by a taxi ride at the start of the day.
